

4-day Instructor Training

“Correctional Family Wellness™”

ABOUT THIS COURSE

“Correctional Family Wellness™” (CFW) is designed to be offered to adult family members of seasoned correctional employees as a 4-hour course, and also to adult family members of new staff as a 2-hour course. It is also offered to correctional employees as a 4-day, 32-hour Instructor Training with certification.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Provide information to family members about the impact of the job on their corrections employee loved one
2. Provide information to family members about the impact of the job on the family
3. Provide family members with practical suggestions for commonly occurring challenges at home in relation to corrections work

WHY THIS COURSE

Family may be the most important support system of correctional employees. And yet family life is often affected by the inherent stressors of corrections work, at times seriously straining relationships, and affecting the well-being and functioning of all concerned.

Correctional families would benefit from:

- Being informed about how the corrections work environment can impact employees
- Knowing that they are not alone in their struggles
- Being equipped with practical coping tools in order to be able to be appropriately supportive
- Managing the stress of the job when it intrudes on home life
- Being informed about the basics of effective self-care

COURSE TOPICS

The proprietary course “Correctional Family Wellness™” presents information to adult family members about how corrections work experiences can impact family life, and provides suggestions for dealing with scenarios commonly experienced by correctional families.

Course topics include:

- Corrections Work Realities
- When Work Comes Home
- What Might My Loved One Face at Work?
- Organizational Ways to Counter the Challenges
- Some Help for the Entire Family (in 11 areas)
- ABCs of Self-care
- Family Scenarios
(7 scenarios for small group discussion)

TARGET AUDIENCE

CFW is designed for the adult family members of all correctional staff who manage/supervise/treat adults or juveniles in correctional institutions (prisons and jails) or in the community (probation, parole and aftercare settings).

ABOUT CFW

INSTRUCTOR CERTIFICATION
